

In this site we provide some of the panels and some of the used fotos of the exhibition for media coverage. These pictures are free to use as far as they are used in the context of media coverage on the projekt "The Third World in World War II". To get the high resolution pictures please right click at a picture and chose "save target as..." (or similar)

Panel with title of the exhibition
(Source: recherche international e.V.)

African soldiers of the British colonial Army

(Source: Imperial War Museum, London)

1939: Colonial soldiers from Africa in French trenches
(Source: S.I.R.P.A., France)

August 1944: Local porters for the Allies at the front-line in the mountains of New Guinea
(Source: National Archives, U.S. Army Signal Corps)

(Colonial S.M.P. from Africa) in winter 1944 in Northern France

(North Pacific 1944) Charles D. Sommers (top) liberation of Guam from Japanese occupation

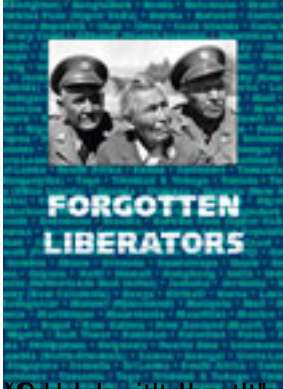

(Paris 1944) Jeanne Louise Calvé (top) Rejection of the anti-Semitic laws enforced in Algeria by the

(Daegu station, South Korea) (bottom) (bottom) abducted and abused by the Japanese Military at the age of

Resident of the President Islands, Kenya, in the life of John F. Kennedy

Golda Kenyon, author of 'Forgotten Liberators', is a 2009 recipient of the Presidential Medal of Freedom. The book is a collection of photos of men and women from third world countries who fought in World War II.

May 1940: Recruiting of Cape Corps volunteers
(Source: Department of Defence Documentation Centre, Pretoria)

Reinforcement of the Cape Documentation Centre, Pretoria)

South Africa for a (Seite 88 unten)

South Africa for a (Seite 88 unten)

South Africa for a (Seite 88 unten)

South Africa for a (Seite 88 unten)

South Africa for a (Seite 88 unten)

British soldiers from the 1st Airborne Division in the North African desert

South African contingent of the 1st Airborne Division en route to Madagascar Centre, Pretoria)

The Guardian, 10.11.1941 - Soldiers demand post-war security

South African Field Artillery Band performing at the De la Rey Cross in Saldanha Bay, Pretoria)

Walter de la Rey, President of the Ex-Servicemen's Club in Cape Town

...ational e.V.)

Es sind: Donald Hill (Kanada), Dennis Norman Marthinus (trompet

... als Fahrer in der Schlacht von Sidi Rezegh in Nordafrika)